

In July we welcomed Bethany into our family! With everyone's whirlwind activities this summer & fall, we had no time to make our annual Malik Halloween Movie. So instead, we invite you to check out our J&B Wedding Highlights Reel which includes clips from the ceremony, Steve's toast, and our Reception Kickoff Dance Medley:

Jordan is an auditor at PWC. Bethany just started Law School at Campbell. Skylar is a junior at Pratt in Brooklyn studying Communications Design. Macey and Sammey are 11th graders at Ravenscroft and both enjoy track in the Winter & Spring. Their varsity volleyball team finished 4th in the state! Macey's passion for drama was heightened with 3 wks of studying Shakespeare & playwriting / directing in London this summer.

We wish you many blessings over the holidays and throughout 2025!

Roes Grow

Happy Holidays, everyone! Time keeps moving on and the kids are growing up quickly. Dylan is 15 and has his permit. He's been driving go carts and our UTV at the lake but needs practice in the Atlanta traffic. He's a freshman in high school and recommitted to TaeKwonDo this year. He achieved his second-degree black belt in December, and we hope he'll begin teaching next year. Like all teenagers, he's growing his hair long (picture a llama) – do it while you can!

Cole is in seventh grade and keeps us busy with his select soccer. He's typically the fastest on the field, but we're waiting for him to hit his growth spurt to help with some girth. He's excelling at school despite the hours spent playing Fortnite with his friends. Both boys continue to take guitar lessons and love hanging with our dog, Winston.

Andrea and Cole

We've taken some intentional trips this year as we've realized that we only have a few big trips left before the kids leave for college. Importantly, we went to London and Wales for the boys to meet Gran's side of the family and walk the Gower coast and Mumbles pier. Cole is obsessed with Greek mythology, so our next stop was to Greece to see the Parthenon in person with a little coastal time too. While we haven't spent much time at the lake (see driving comment), we did make it back to NC to visit family, celebrate a few weddings and attend my college reunion at Wake.

Nothing much has changed with the adults - Work is going well and Andrea is still playing tennis. We're looking forward to the holiday season. We love getting to see everyone and hope for more opportunities in the new year.

Have a happy new year!
